"In the summer of 2007, I had the opportunity for the first time to visit Poland and the Slovak Republic, homeland of my paternal and maternal ancestors. I was truly amazed by the number of people who attend Mass on a regular basis. As I visited the shrines and churches in Poland during the course of a weekday. I was inspired by the number of people, particularly the young adults who were there. Our tour guide shared with us the statistics that, in Poland alone, 97% of the population is Catholic and nearly 90% practice their faith regularly. Why is it not that way here?"
